

College of the Coast and Environment
Fall 2016 Seminar Series

Seminars are held in the Dalton Woods Auditorium in the Energy, Coast, and Environment Building on Fridays from 11:30a.m.-12:15p.m. Lunch follows in the adjacent conference room.

September 9: Craig McClain

LUMCON

"An energetic view of marine invertebrate biodiversity"

September 16: Angelina Freeman

Coastal Protection and Restoration Authority (CPRA)

"Coastal Bay Dynamics: Approaches to Increased Understanding and Integration with Restoration Planning"

September 23: Morgan Kelly

LSU Dept. Biological Sciences

"The Price of Victory: Consequences of environmental stress adaptation in marine invertebrates"

September 30: Ehab Meselhe

The Water Institute

"Development and Application of Biophysical Models to Evaluate Nature Based Defense and Restoration Strategies"

October 21: Jay Emerson

University of Western Michigan

"GIS and Paleoanthropology: Geospatial Applications in the Search for Eocene Mammalian Fossils"

October 28: Coastal Communication Clips

Sea Grant

"Coastal Communication Clips"

November 4: Mallory Vachon

LSU Center for Energy Studies

November 11: James Rice

North Carolina State University

"How important are Direct and Indirect Effects of Hypoxia on Juvenile Fishes?"

November 18: Bjoern Wissel

University of Regina, Canada

"Impacts of Athabasca Oil Sands emissions on downwind lakes: potential for eutrophication and acidification"

December 2: Davin Wallace

University of Southern Mississippi

"Paleotempestological hurricane reconstructions from the Gulf of Mexico, Caribbean, and North Atlantic: Global climate implications"